

Terms of Use

By accessing BR Partners' website, you declare to be aware of and agree with the Terms of Use and Legal Disclaimers on this website. Should you have any doubts regarding this matter, please refer to applicable laws and regulations in your country and/or jurisdiction.

If you do not agree with the Terms of Use and/or Legal Disclaimers set out herein, do not access other pages of BR Partners' website.

The Terms of Use and any information and materials contained in BR Partners' website are subject to periodic update at the sole discretion of BR Partners, without the need to notify users or visitors in advance.

Access subject to lack of local legal restrictions

BR Partners' website and all information and features contained therein are not intended to be used by people residing or located in jurisdictions where: (1) the distribution of said information and features is contrary to law in these jurisdictions; or (2) this distribution is forbidden if BR Partners has not obtained the necessary authorizations or licenses, when this is a condition.

Services and Products

Services and products contained in BR Partners' website may not be available for people residing in certain countries or for certain investor categories. Please, refer to the terms and conditions applicable to you, including legal, regulatory and commercial restrictions and other specific terms for more information.

The materials available on BR Partners' website are not related with specific investment objectives, with the financial situation or individual needs of any specific user/visitor. In this regard, it is the sole responsibility of these users/visitors to verify and adjust their own objectives and needs.

Any report available on BR Partners' website is published for informative purposes and should not be interpreted as a request or offer to buy or sell securities and/or products of any kind. Unless specifically stated, any price-related information will be merely indicative.

No explicit or implied guarantee can be provided regarding the accuracy, completeness and security of the materials on BR Partners' website, including in the references to securities and other matters contained therein.

Visitors should not consider the materials on BR Partners' website a substitute for their own judgment and, if deemed necessary, they should consult duly qualified professionals, who will take into consideration their specific needs and objectives when advising them.

Any opinions from BR Partners are subject to change without the need to notify users in advance. They may differ or diverge from the opinions expressed by other people, departments or groups within BR Partners itself, due to different analyses, criteria and interpretations.

Informative nature of contents

Information contained in BR Partners website is merely informative. No information presented in BR Partners' website should be interpreted as a proposal, offer or recommendation to buy or sell any investment services and/or products, nor as the performance of any legal act, regardless of its nature.

No information contained in BR Partners' website is a financial, legal, regulatory or tax opinion, neither does it consist of an advice or indication that any investment is suitable to any investor.

No investment decision should be based exclusively on the contents of BR Partners' website. Prior to making any investment decision, a duly qualified professional should be consulted.

Reports and/or forecasts and/or projections

BR Partners' website may contain reports, forecasts and/or projections of various types. Although these reports, forecasts and/or projections may represent BR Partners' judgment and expectations, risks, uncertainties and other significant factors may result in a reality that materially differs from that originally forecast.

BR Partners is not under the obligation (and the institution expressly does not accept any obligation) to update, amend or correct these reports, forecasts and/or projections in any situation, including new information or future events. These reports, forecasts and/or projections are supplementary and should not be the only source used by investors to make financial decisions.

In addition to information and opinions, any prices indicated are also subject to changes without prior notification. It is essential to consult a duly qualified professional before making any investment decision.

Absence of guarantee by BR Partners

Although BR Partners only publishes on its website information obtained from reliable and well-intentioned sources, BR Partners does not independently verifies it, nor does it give any express or implicit guarantee regarding information and/or features contained in BR Partners' website, including, but not limited to, accuracy, correctness, completeness, authenticity, ownership, security, use, availability or suitability to specific purposes.

Link

BR Partners' website may contain information from third parties or electronic references ("links") that refer to third party websites. BR Partners provides these types of links and content only for your knowledge and convenience. The Company does not control them, it takes no responsibility for them, neither does it offer any guarantee regarding their accuracy, quality, topicality etc.

The Company will not be responsible for any type of third-party content or website accessed through links available on BR Partners' website.

Intellectual Property

BR Partners holds property rights over information and content (text, information, graphs, logo etc.) available on BR Partners' website.

BR Partners' website pages may only be printed for personal use and the copies should contain a note regarding the intellectual property of BR Partners or the third party who provided it.

No user may, without exception, modify, copy, share, distribute, exhibit, develop, reproduce, publish, license, copy format, create derivative works, transfer or otherwise use this information, in whole or in part, for publication or commercial purposes, without the prior and express written authorization from BR Partners.

BR Partners' logo and name are included in the brands belonging to BR Partners, even if not registered in some jurisdictions. Except for the cases provided for above, BR Partners' brands must not be used for any purpose without the prior and express written consent of BR Partners.

Copyright, trademark, patents etc. may also protect third party products, brands, expressions, names, corporate names and logos contained in BR Partners' website. They must not be used for any purpose without the prior and express written consent of the owner.

Electronic messages (emails)

The Internet is universally accessible. Electronic messages ("emails") sent through this means are neither confidential nor secure and may be seen, intercepted and changed by third parties or even lost in the transmission process. These email messages may cross country borders even if sender and recipient are in the same country.

Therefore, never use emails to share personal or confidential information or any bank account details. Always consider that everything posted on or travelling through the Internet is public, not secure and can be lost.

Unless agreed in writing, BR Partners will not accept any orders or instructions sent by email or other electronic messaging system.

BR Partners does not take responsibility, neither before you or third parties, for damages arising from electronic messages sent to BR Partners, whether by email or any other electronic messaging system.

Unenforceability of a provision

If a court or competent authority deems any provision herein to be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable in a given jurisdiction, this provision must be judged independently to be excluded from the Terms of Use, which means all other provisions will remain valid, legal and applicable in this jurisdiction. In addition, this will not affect the validity, lawfulness and enforceability of all provisions included herein in other jurisdictions.

Information Security Incident

If you identify any problems or vulnerabilities related to our products, portals or applications arising from information security incidents, please notify us through the email soc.ti@brap.com.br

In our efforts to make the Internet safer and protect the interests of our clients, we need to have enough time to correct any problem before it is publicly disclosed by any means of communication. It is also worth highlighting that any publication requires formal authorization from Banco BR Partners.
